About Nanjing

SEU is situated in Nanjing, capital of Jiangsu province in southeastern part of China. More than 1/3 of the world's top 500 multinational corporations have their branches in Jiangsu province. For the past 5 continuous years, Jiangsu has ranked the 1st in Chinese provinces in absorbing the foreign investment. Nanjing is a beautiful modern city with a long history. A short trip by air may lead you to other big cities of China. It only takes you two hours from Nanjing to Shanghai by train. Within the city you may choose to travel by bus, taxi, subway or bicycle. It was made as capital in ten dynasties. The ancient wall of Nanjing, built in 1360's, is the best-maintained ancient wall in the world. In spring you may celebrate the Plum Blossom Festival in Ming Xiaoling Mausoleum, built in the Ming Dynasty, about 500 years ago. In summer you may taste local grapes as well as Chinese rural scenery in Jiangxin Island or walk around the Qinhuai Lake near Confucius Temple. In autumn, you may enjoy the scenery decorated by red leaves in the Purple Mountain or overlook the whole city from Zifeng Tower with 450 meters high. In winter, you may hear the rings from the Qixia Temple greeting the New Year.
